

AI Content Studio for LinkedIn, Instagram, X, and more

CarouseLabs turns a topic — or nothing at all — into a ready-to-post caption, on-brand image, or full multi-slide carousel. Built for founders, creators, and marketers who don't have hours to spend designing every post.

THE PROBLEM

Creating content eats your calendar

Every post is a small project. Multiply that by every platform you're supposed to show up on, every week.

Hours per post, not minutes

Writing a caption from scratch, wrestling with Canva, resizing the same idea for every platform — one carousel can swallow an entire afternoon. And then it's time to do it again tomorrow.

THE PROBLEM, CONTINUED

And it's expensive — in more ways than one

The cost isn't just time. It's your budget, and it's you.

Death by a thousand subscriptions

A designer here, a VA there, a writing tool, a scheduling tool — the stack adds up fast, and most of it sits half-used.

Exhausted by the pressure to post

"Stay consistent" is the advice everyone gives — and the thing that quietly burns creators out. Running out of ideas feels like running out of things to say.

THE SOLUTION

Carousel Labs solves all three

Same three problems. Now flipped.

Time saved

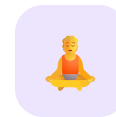

~7 minutes

From a blank page to a ready-to-post carousel — caption, image, and all.

Money saved

One plan replaces the stack. Pro is $24.99/mo for 1,000 credits — no designer, no VA, no extra design tool.

Burnout relieved

Never face a blank page. Get 10 fresh ideas generated on demand, anytime you're stuck.

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT

Not just another AI writer

Four things competitors don't do.

Reference image brand-matching

Upload one example post and every future post matches your colors, fonts, and style — never copies the content.

Platform-specific optimization

8 platforms, each with its own tone, length, and hashtag rules baked in — not one-size-fits-all.

3-stage AI pipeline

AI plans the layout, then writes the visual brief, then generates the image — like a real design process, not one prompt.

80+ structure templates

Across captions, carousels, and images — so content never feels formulaic or repetitive.

Amazon makes more money from AWS than from most of its retail business.

Amazon's Crazy Business Model

Most people think Amazon makes its money by selling products.

But there's a twist:

Amazon Web Services (AWS) is one of the biggest profit engines behind Amazon."

Amazon's retail business generates enormous revenue, but retail has much thinner margins

Amazon's combination of consumer retail (brand visibility, customer data, payment relationships) and enterprise cloud services (profitability, B2B relationships, technical capabilities) creates unique strategic advantages. The company can leverage consumer insights for AWS services, use AWS technology to improve retail operations, and maintain financial strength from AWS while building retail market share.

This business model resilience became particularly evident during economic volatility when AWS provided stable, growing profits even as retail faced challenges from supply chain disruptions, changing consumer behavior, or competitive pressure.

The lesson extends beyond Amazon: successful modern companies increasingly operate multiple business models simultaneously, using profitable divisions to fund strategic expansion while maintaining diversified revenue streams that reduce dependence on any single market or customer segment.
